QUEER ACCIDENT MAY COST BOY'S EYESIGHT

An odd accident of which Keith Douglass, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Douglas of 525 Heller street was the victim, may cost the boy the sight of his right eye. The lad and a boy friend were preparing to play soldier and Keith was making a sword of wood. He was whittling a piece of wood into the required shape and was drawing the knife toward him. The knife slipped and struck the boy in the eye, cutting through the eyeball.

Medical aid was imemdiately summoned and the boy was rushed to the Peninsula hospital in Palo Alto, where Dr. Josiah Kirk, eye specialist of that place was called. Dr. Kirk performed the delicate operation of sewing up the eyeball, and hopes are held that the eyesight may yet be saved. Whether or not the operation will be successful, however, will not be known for several days.

PIONEER TAXIMAN RETIRES FROM BUSINESS

John F. Ford, the well-known taxi man, on Wednesday sold his business to the Andy Taxi Company, owned by Messrs Anderson and Debenedetti, with headquarters in the Peninsula garage. M. Ford had his office in the Stafford building. Mr Ford will retire from active business and enjoy the results of his labors.

He has been in the taxi business for twelve years during which time he has driven 360,000 miles and had only two accidents. This is a marvelous record for a man of his years. It shows what care in driving will accomplish. Mr. Ford never speeded or tried to beat a railroad train to the crossing. In that time he carried over 6000 patrons to various parts of the state without any serious mishap.

Mr. Ford is one of the pioneers of Redwood City, coming here as a child from Boston with his parents in 1855. He has resided in Redwood City longer than any other person with the sole exception of Chase Littlejohn who was born here in 1853. Mr. Ford's parents moved to Searsville in 1857, where the elder Ford conducted a blacksmith shop for several years and returning to Redwood City in the early sixties to engage in the blacksmithing business. The block of land on Broadway, running from the office of the Times-Gazette to Washington street was formerly owned by the Ford estate. For many years the Ford shop, located on the corner of the block, was the stamping ground for all the farmers in the locality.

At an early age John F. Ford learned the printer's trade in the office of the Times-Gazette and rose to a reporter and became a writer of some note. It was while thus occupied that he met Fremont Older now editor of the San Francisco Call, who was then a typesetter on the Times-Gazette. Both became fast friends and that friendship has grown with years. Older never comes to town without seeing his quondam friend. They often meet and talk over the times when they worked side by side on the case in the office of the Times-Gazette.

In 1877 Ford began his career as a hunter of seals in the northern seas, an occupation he followed for many years with success. He made seventeen trips for the fur seal which took him to the Behring Sea and the coast of Japan, and also to southern waters. Ford became an expert shot and a seal hunter of skill and ability. The seal was shot from an open boat, and in this difficult and trying position Ford always got his seal, few getting away from him. At the end of the season his catch was always the largest and most valuable. He made big sums in the sea trips. Ford would leave Redwood City early in the spring and return in the fall to spend the winter in Redwood City.

Mr. Ford has written narratives of these trips for the papers in years gone by and these articles were always read with interest. He knew the haunts and habits of the seal as did no other man that hunted them. He studied them and knew their traits and knew when and how to hunt them.

Mr. Ford was a member of the San Francisco fire department for some years and was a member of the state militia for ten years. He made every effort to secure a captaincy in the army during the Spanish-American war but failed on account of some trifling physical disability.

Mr. Ford will now retire after an active career to enjoy the years that are left to him under his own vine and figtree and away from the city's maddening crowd and at the place where his boyhood and manhood was spent. His friends hope he will live to a ripe old age amid these scenes and activities of his younger days.

Thursday morning Judge Buck granted four interlocutory recrees of divorce as follows: Adolph Mehl from Annie Mehl on the grounds of desertion.

V. W. Torndoff from Francis Torndorf on the ground of willful neglect.

Mary L. Blake from C. W. Blake on the ground of extreme cruelty.

Lloyd B. Ford from Estrid Ford on statutory grounds.

Elizabeth Sabo from her husband, Alex Sabo on the ground of extreme cruelty.

Kendall Towne Heads Company

The Ford agency in Redwood City which was purchased last week by F. K. Towne of the first National Bank, is now under the management of Kendall Towne, his son, and is being conducted as the Towne Motor Company. The agency was purchased from Dave Flynn, woh has held the business here for the past six years.

The new manager of the business is a young man well known in the community. He is a graduate of the Sequoia Union High School and of the University of California. Since his graduation from the latter institution he has been actively engaged in the real estate buisness in Burlingame.

PIONEER RESIDENT IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Charles Eikerenkotter, a former constable of the Third township, is quite low in a hospital in San Rafael. Owing to his advanced age it is hardly possible that he will recover. Only recently Mr. Eikerenkotter lost the sight of his right eye and may become totally blind. He comes from a pioneer family of this county that settled here in the fifties. Mr. Eikerenkotter was born and grew to manhood in the defunct town of Searsville, where his father conducted the first hotel in the couney. Young Eikerenkotter was a perfect specimen of manly beauty. His tall, erect handsome figure was familiar in this section in the early days. He was the leader in all social affairs, in fact, all members of the Eikerenkotter family were comely and leaders in their respective spheres. In early times the Eikerenkotters were big political factors in the community. They were the leaders.

Edward Eikerenkotter was the county clerk for nearly a quarter of a century, while Julius for eight years was the supervisor of the First township and Albert Eikerenkotter was superintendent of the county farm for a number of years. George Eikerenkotter, the only one of the boys remaining in the county, is connected with the courthouse as custodian.

Charles Eikerenkotter was constable at Redwood City in the nineties, leaving later for Fairfield where he conducted a hotel. For some years he has been a resident of Marin county. He is now well in the seventies and the stalwart frame is somewhat bent and his walk is slow and his coal black locks are streaked with gray. He is slowly but surely submitting to nature's demands as all mankind must do, nature's debt must be paid. In the days of his youth and beauty, Younk Eikerenkotter, like a young Lochinvar, would dash down from his mountain home at Searsville to enjoy the dances at Redwood City and as a terpsichorean artist he had few superiors, his grace and ease on the floor won the admiration of the pertty young women who delighted in dancing the waltz, the polka and the dances in vogue at that time with him. In those days the social center was at Searsville, where a ball was held every Saturday evening. Young Eikerenkotter was always sure to be in the midst of the gayest of those events, meticulous in dress, charming manner and his stalwart figure made him a leader in all social amenities.

After the sale of the Eikerenkotter holdings to the Spring Valley Water Company, those remaining of the family moved to other parts. Charles coming to Redwood City. He will be remembered by all old pioneers of the county, who hope he will recover and like Richard of old, become himself again.

MONSIGNOR J. M. GLEESON KIWANIS CLUB SPEAKER

An address on Europe was given before the Redwood City Kiwanis club at its regular meeting Wednesday by Monsignor Joseph M. Gleeson of Palo Alto, who has recently returned from a tour of the continent and the British Isles. Rev. Gleeson told of the conditions he found in various parts of Europe, conditions varying from a state of great prosperity in Jugo-Slovakia, to one approaching starvation in Austria.

In France Rev. Gleeson found business hampered by political troubles, and in Brittan the unemployment situation was found to be a stupendous problem.

As this week has been denominated Good Roads Week by the Kiwanis clubs of the nation, Rev. Gleeson spoke at length upon the great influence of the Roman roads of Europe and the part that roads assumed in binding together that great empire at the time of its greatness. Roman roads are used to this day in many parts of Europe and form some of the best highways at this time.

Woodside Notes

While we have been sitting close to our blazing hearths or have been draping ourselves with extra sweaters and coats in resistance to the cold fogs of the past two weeks we have, in reality, not been far from warmth and sunshine. The low hanging fog of the valley has not reached to the summit of the ridge of the mountains and along the Skyline boulevard the sun has been shining with its usual splendor and with a warmth that made even the usual coat a superfluity.

Letters have been received from William McCann and family who have just returned to Italy after a two months' stay in Egypt. They are expected home by the first of April.

Mrs. Ludwig von Savoye has been confined to her home for the last week with an attack of grippe.

Mrs. Ruby Ralston who has been ill for several weeks, has been removed from her home here to the hospital in Redwood City.

Mrs. L. Schmidt of Berkeley has been visiting for a week with Mrs. A. H. Audiffred.

Mrs. Herbert Gallagher, after spending several weeks of the holiday period at her home here, returned to San Francisco on Monday.

Mrs. Alanson Weeks of San Francisco, visited her home here on Wednesday.

Lee Beck, proprietor of the Live Oak Market, is installing plate glass counters in his already well appointed shop, giving it the appearance of a city market.

Henry Tribblecox of Tunitas Glen met with a painful accident on Thursday when a team which he was driving from Menlo Park ran away on Atherton avenue, collided with an oak tree, shattered the wagon and covered the driver with cuts and bruises.

We became sensible on Wednesday evening of our dependence upon a certain public service company. The electricity was shut off for about fifteen minutes and during that period of darkness, being uncertain how long it might endure, there was a great scurrying about for candles, lanterns and long discarded oil lamps.

F. J. CASHMAN DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

Death following an illness of more than five months, called Frank J. Cashman, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerimiah Cashman of this city last Monday morning. The young man passed away at the family home at 223 Jeter street, where for months every effort had been made to save his life. Although at times his recovery had been dispared of, he had appeared to be recovering and of late hopes were held for him. His death was therefore a severe shock to his friends.

The young man was 21 years of age and was a native of San Francisco. For the past ten years he had lived with his family in Redwood City, where his father is employed as a rural mail carrier. For several years the young man has been employed in a local grocery concern. He was always friendly and courteous, and his pleasant manner won him many friends.

Funeral services were held for the young man Wednesday from the home of the deceased, thence to Mt. Carmel Catholic church, where a high mass was celebrated. The funeral was in charge of Layng and Tinney of this city. It was followed by interment in Holy Cross cemetery in Colma.

WILL PRINT SAN FRANCISCO HISTORY

Edward H. Hurlbut, editor and owner of the San Francisco Tribune the only weekly paper published in San Francisco, is getting copy ready for a book to be called "The City Hall Blue Book," or "Fourteen Years of Achievement." The publication will be a political history of San Francisco during the mayoralty of Jas. Rolph, Jr.

Mr. Hurlbut, who grew up in Redwood City and is a product of the local schools and Stanford University, is one of the cleverest political prognosticators in California. He has written a number of novels, detective stories and short stories and is a writer of more than ordinary ability.

The book will be out in a few weeks and should be of great interest to all Californians.

REDWOOD FIRE DEPARTMENT EXTINGUISHES TWO BLAZES

The local fire department responded to two calls on Thursday, and in one case at least prevented what would have been a serious fire. The first was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cook on Washington street. The fire in this case was started by an overheated flue which ignited the roof. The prompt response of the local department prevented any serious damage to the house.

Later in the day the department responded to a call from box 13 to find that the fire was in a small shed in the rear of the First National Bank. This was also soon extinguish-with little damage.

County May Build New Coast Road

It is probable that the board of supervisors of this county will accept a recommendation made at their meeting by the grand jury that a new road be built connecting Pescadero and the San Mateo County Memorial Park with the recently completed section of the Skyline boulevard.

The recomemndation of the grand jury favors the construction of a well paved road from Pescadero to Saints Rest past the county park, and the construction of a new road following up the Pescadero creek to a point on the Skyline boulevard.

The new road, if the county board accepts the recommendation of the grand jury, would shorten the distance from the county seat to the coast by several miles and would make it necessary to cross only one mountain range instead of two.

Several members of the county grand jury, headed by the foreman, J. C. Williamson of Pescadero, were present at the meeting of the supervisors to urge the importance of the recommendation. Action on this matter is promised at an early date.

WILL OF W. C. LEONETTI FILED

The instrument was executed at San Francisco on February 7, 1924. The estate is valued in excess of $10,000. The heirs at law are the surviving husband and three minor children by a former husband.

KIWANIS TO CELEBRATE ITS ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Redwood City Kiwanis Club will join in with the 1450 other clubs of Kiwanis International on the North American continent to observe the 11th anniversary of the organization's founding during the recognized anniversary week of January 17-23, was the announcement made by F. K. Towne, president of the local club this week.

"Our club's program will be under the direction of the committee on Kiwanis Education, and will include several numbers that are featured by all the clubs throughout the United States and Caanda," said President Towne. "With the 95,000 Kiwanians celebrating the 11th anniversary it is hoped that the general public will become acquainted with Kiwanis' many achievements, accomplishments, and work during the past ten years.

The first Kiwanis club was organized in Detroit, Michigan, and the first meeting was held on January 21, 1915. The International organizaton therefore recognizes January 21 as the authentic anniversary date.

Kiwanis International has had a remarkable growth. Its present number of clubs exceeds 1450 and has a total membership of more than 95,000. John H. Moss, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, is International president, being elected at the 9th International convention in St. Paul, Minn., last June. The 1926 convention will be held in Montreal from June 7-10.

C. OF C. WORKING FOR MUCH NEEDED ROAD

The chamber of commerce is alert to the fact that Redwood City must have a direct road to the Dumbarton bridge that will be completed within the next few months and has started a movement to secure a direct route to the big span. A committee has been appointed made up of Asa Hull, Frank K. Towne and Henry Witte to begin preliminary steps in the matter and to look into every detail of the project.

It will be fully four or five years before the proposed Bay Shore road will be finished to the bridge. This will no doubt give the people of Redwood City a good route to the span but in the meantime the travel and trade may be diverted to other sources which might be difficult to switch when the proposed Bay Shore thoroughfare is ready for travel.

It is suggested that the road through the Sweeney tract, connecting with the Bay Road at the old Sweeney home be used. The right of way no doubt could be secured at a nominal cost and it would require only a small sum to grade and macadamize the road and put it in splendid condition. This would give a route to the Willow road or Corn-duff lane, leading direct to the new approach to the bridge. This is a feasible and sensible route that would bring a great part of the travel over the bridge to Redwood City. It would almost be direct and the cheapest course to the Willow road.

With the opening of Broadway through to Chestnut street by the removal of the Wahl building a connection could be made with the road through the Sweeney property, thus giving a clear course to the span. Although a trifle indirect it would be the best route and one that would not cost very much. In fact it is the only route that could now be contemplated.

Supervisor John MacBain has been consulted in the matter and he has consented to aid in the project which means so much to this community and to the business men.

The people must be up and doing in this matter. No time must be lost for the bridge will be finished next April, at least the approach on this side will be in shape to admit travel of every kind to the span and thousands will go over it. The approach on the other side may not be ready for several months. The bridge itself will be finished by April or May.

The committee is composed of wide awake business men who will do their part and so will the chamber of commerce if the business men and the citizens of Redwood City will back them up in their efforts in this enterprise.

Other communities are working diligently to secure this travel for their places. Let Redwood City be alive and secure her portion.

BANK OF ITALY TO RECONSTRUCT BUILDING

Complete reconstruction of the Bank of Italy's building here is to be undertaken at once, the preliminary work having been started last Monday.

When finished the structure will occupy quarters with an enlarged floor space of 1500 square feet, and a total lobby area of 3750 square feet.

The building, which will be executed in Spanish type of architecture, is to be Class A, reinforced concrete and structural steel construction. The entire exterior will be done over, and the main floor will be on the street level.

In the arrangement of the interior there will be 14 windows for public use, assuring ample provision for the demands of service during rush hours of the day.

New vaults will be installed and a commodious safe deposit lobby is included. A women's rest room, and a customers' room are other features that the plans include.

The interior will be finished in bronze and marble, with marble floors and screens. In selecting these materials attention has been given to the color scheme and the decorative effects that can be obtained. A mezzanine floor will be provided, and the quarters of the Advisory Board will be maintained there.

Work on the building will be pushed through to completion at as early a date as possible.

Valuable Business Property Sold Yesterday

The lot at the corner of the State Highway and Broadway in the Perry tract with a frontage of 100 feet on both streets, was sold yesterday to a San Francisco realty firm for $50,000. Mr. Perry only paid $42,500 for the entire tract a little over a year ago. It is believed that a mercantile firm of San Francisco has purchased the property on which to erect a large building. The corner is one of the choicest in Redwood City and has been sought after for a long time but this is the first big offer made for it. A rumor was afloat yesterday that the Piggly Wiggly people were the purchasers but this rumor could not be run down. A deposit of $5000 was made to a local real estate firm yesterday for the sale of the corner.

County Epworth League Holds Meeting Here

The San Mateo County Epworth League Alliance held its quarterly rally and annual election of officers at the Methodist Episcopal church here last evening. Leaguers from South San Francisco, San Bruno, Burlingame, San Mateo and Redwood City were represented.

A dinner was held at 6:30 in the banquet hall of the church and immediately following, the leaguers adjourned to the church auditorium where the election of officers for the ensuing year was held. The following officers were elected: Vella Ledwith of San Bruno, president; Mabel Whitten, Burlingame, 1st vice president; Margaret Peterson, Burlingame, 2nd vice-president; Nellie Adams, Redwood City, 3rd vice-president; James Blamey, San Mateo, 4th vice-president; Edna Young, South San Francisco, secretary; Wilmer Osborn, Redwood City, treasurer; and Mura Stilleson, Redwood City, junior league superintendent.

B. E. Myers of the Redwood City church made the address of welcome in the absence of Rev. Harry Owen.

BONITA PARLOR ENTERTAINS GRAND PRESIDENT

Bonita Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West entertained Miss Sue Irwin of Berkeley, grand president of the organization at the Foresters' hall, Thursday night. About two hundred members of the local parlor and a number of visitors were present to greet the distinguished visitor. The degree team exemplified the work on six candidates and won the commendation of the visiting official.

Redwood City Parlor N. S. G. W., represented by Roy W. Cloud, presented Miss Irwin with a beautiful boquet, and Mr. Cloud wished her a happy and useful term of office. Miss Irwin responded and sent her thanks and apreciation to the Native Sons.

After the initiatory work the grand president complimented the ladies of the degree teams and the officers and told of the work and ideals of the order. Others present were also called upon and expressed their pleasure at being present.

At the close of the meeting a banquet was served which added to the pleasure of a happy and profitable evening.

The local parlor of Native Daughters is one of the most prosperous in California and is doing much to keep alive the ideals and history of the founders of our state.

GRATEFUL PATRONS REWARD TELEPHONE EXCHANGE GIRLS

It is often remarked that we get out of life just what we put into it. At least consciencious service does not go altogether unrewarded during the holiday season for the girls behind the switchboards of the telephone exchange here. The "voice with a smile," during the year made many friends. This was shown by the gifts showered on the telephone girs over the holidays.

Following is the list of the Christmas gifts:

Cash, $146.00; 48 boxes of candy; 4 boxes of oranges; 2 boxes of apples; 15 boxes of Cara Nome face powder; 15 Colleen Moore powder compacts; and 15 rouge compacts; 15 $2.00 merchandise orders; 42 cans of preserved fruit and one friut cake.

MRS. HARRIET R. HALL PASSES AWAY HERE

Funeral services were held at the James Crowe undertaking parlors on Tuesday for Mrs. Harriet R. Hall, sister of Dr. J. C. Ross and Attorney George Ross of this city, who passed away at 52 Myrtle street where she had been staying for some time. Services were conducted by Rev. Albert E. Clay of St. Peter's Episcopal church of this city and the body was sent to Macomb, Ill., for interment in the family plot.

Mrs. Hall was a native of Illinois and was 82 years ofage. She was the wife of the late Thomas M. Hall, and is survived by a son, Ross C. Hall, and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Willard of Chicago.

VOTERS TO BE GIVEN AN OPPORTUNITY TO DECIDE ON BROADWAY EXTENSION

Monday, April 12 will be the date of the election at which the voters of Redwood City will decide upon the future of a large portion of Redwood City. The matter of the extension of Broadway will be voted upon at that time. This was decided by the board of trustees of this city last Monday following the filing of a report by a committee which has been working upon the matter for several months.

The report which was filed by the committee recommends that an 85-foot street be built between Main and Chestnut streets. It also recommends that one third of the cost of this roadway be carried by a bond issue, and that the remaining two thirds be born by an assessment district. It is proposed to divide the town into five districts, according to the benefit which will be received from the extension, the idea being that each section be taxed according to the benefit which will accrue from the improvement.

The committee headed by City Attorney Albert Mansfield and City Engineer Charles Dimmitt, was discharged with the thanks of the board.

Another matter which occupied the attention of the trustees Monday evening was the large number of stray dogs which are loose in the streets of this city. City Attorney Mansfield was requested by the board to draw up an ordinance limiting the number of dogs which may be kept in the residence section of the town. The position of dog catcher was placed under the supervision of Chief of Police Collins, and he was instructed to rid the city of the large number of stray dogs which are now present in the streets.

Melbourn Willard was added to the Redwood City fire department upon the recommendation of Chief Ryan. Willard has had a great deal of experience in the driving and repair of autos and for several months has maintained a repair shop in this city.

THE EDITOR'S GROUCH

WE sometimes hear of "business men" who take pride in the fact that they "have never spent a dollar for advertising while in business." And it is needless to say that this same man never subscribes for a local paper, but will borrow his neighbor's for the news. If, however, he enlarges his store or moves his business, he is the first to want the fact shouted through the news columns, or if there is any little favor which the newspaper can perform free, he is always on hand.

This is the same individual who will buy land and allow it to be idle in order that his neighbors may make improvements and increase its value. He then sells it at an increased price and boasts of his shrewdness.

These are the barnacles of the community, living on the work of others, yet claiming the credit of all advancement. ,

The newspaper more than any other business is public property. Upon the local papers each community must depend for a large share of its advancement. The newspaper is supported by the live merchants—those willing to bear their share in the advancement of their community. But from every advance which the local newspaper makes possible, the parisites the barnacles—suck their sustenance and boast of their shrewdness.

The efforts and means of a publisher are devoted whole heartedly to advancing every gool movement—it is his life's work. For sixty-five years this paper has labored for the community—has advertised this section far and wide; has been instrumental in putting through every foreward movement; in passing every progressive bond issue. And then we meet this man whose boast is that he has never spent a dollar on advertising.

Analyze his statement. He boasts that whatever advantage he has gained has been unpaid for—has in truth been stolen from his competitors, who do spend their money in support of the local newspapers.

A community cannot exist in this century without a newspaper. A newspaper cannot exist without proper support. That community is unfortunate indeed, where many merchants are of this barancle type. Redwood City is very fortunate in this regard, of course. We think the individual of whom we write, must belong in another town, if not we wish for commune bonum that he did.

WORDS, MERE WORDS

SAYING something, whether revelant or irrevelant has become a habit with us, and we use every opportunity offered. Has anyone asked you during the mornings of this week if it was cold enough for you? Or have you asked your friends this question? Well if it hasn't been cold enough for anyone , that person should be put in cold storage. Then in the summer on days when you could fry eggs on the sidewalks, our friends ernestly inquire "Is it hot enough for you?"

Then we say, "How are you?" Sometimes one of our friends takes us at our word, and tells us how he is, and then we wish we had used some other form of salutation. More frequently than not our salutations are mere words. We were recently talking to our friend, John Brown, Jr., (he's called junior because he is not as old as his father) when a mutual friend approached. John Brown had been touring Europe for some months, so it was natural for our friend to greet him, "Hello John, have you got back?"

This reminds us of two friends who unknown to each other, took the same steamer for Hawaii. After the customary two days below, they met as the steamer was about mid ocean. "Hello Jim," exclaimed the first, "Going Over?" "Yes," replied his friend, "Are you?"

DEMONSTRATION FORESTS

ONE of the notable movements in our country is setting aside of large tracts of timber to demonstrate the practical value of forestation.

A gift has been made recently to Yale College that is to promote public education in forestry, by training young men in an outdoor school for this purpose. The same movement providing instruction in forestry operations is being promoted in a number of western states. The purpose is to convince private forest owners of the economic advantage in management of timber lands. Forwarding the knowledge and practice of economic forestry throughout the country is one of the best outgrowths of the national conservation policy.

States must co-operate by eliminating the tax burden on growing timber.

THE MOST IMPORTANT NEWSPAPER

"Irreverent shears are never laid upon the President's home town paper. Thit is the greatest newspaper the most important newspaper that comes to the White House, and the President wants it all."—Tomahawk, Wisconsin, Leader.

The population of every great city is largely made up of men and women from small towns. Many of them are never weaned away from the old home surroundings and they read the home town paper from the first paragraph to the last. That is the reason the rural papers of America have such a far-reaching influence, in safeguarding the ideals and traditions of our constitutional form of government and what it stands for.

MOVIES

ROMANCE, THRILLS, COLOR IN PICTURE LAVISHLY MADE BY FRANK TUTTLE

Paramount's magnificent screen entertainment, "The American Venus," which immortalizes the charms of America's most beautiful girls, is something more than a de luxe motion picture.

It is an eye-dazzling spectacle, a gorgeous extravaganza, a glorified and glorifying film masterpiece, in which lavish and amazing scenic effects, luxurious settings and rich and wonderful costumes are used to cover the bright and lively plot with a harmony of color, grace, beauty and novelty.

The story, by Townsend Martin, built around a nation-wide search for the loviest, shapeliest and most graceful girl in America, is chock-full of comedy, romance, melodrama and thrills. Bound up with the beauty quest is a refreshing love story between one of the contestants and an enterprising young publicity man.

Never before has so much youth and beauty and talent been assembled in a screen production. The featured roles are brilliantly handled by Esther Ralston, Lawrence Gray, Ford Sterling and Fay Lanphier, who was crowned "Miss America" at the 1925 bathing beauty contest at Atlantic City. And the supporting cast includes Ernest Torrence, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., many noted stage celebrities, seven of the leading entries in the Atlantic City geauty pageant and twenty of the loveliest mannequins in the country.

Under the deft and intelligent direction of Frank Tuttle, the picture maintains a delicate balance between its purely visual features, such as the elaborate fashion show and the artistic tablaeux, which were filmed in color, and its heart-appealing action.

ONLY TWO MORE WEEKS TO GET 1926 LICENSE PLATES

Only a little more than two full weeks remain in which to secure the 1926 license plates for your car. Don't wait until the last minute and face the possibility of paying the penalty of a double registration fee which will be assessed late comers after January 30.

This admonition to motorists was issued by George S. Grant, manager of the Touring Bureau of the California State Automobile Association which is issuing license plates for passenger cars to its 60,000 members.

During the 12 days of the renewal registration, which is a month earlier this year than last, thousands of the new 1926 numerals were issued from the offices of the Automobile Association. The heaviest rush was during the first three days but plates have been going out steadily from all branches ever since.

Even during the height of the opening rush, Grant said that the Automobile Association was able to live up to its slogan, "step right up, pay $3, and step out with your license plates."

LEGAL CONTROVERSY DRAWS TO A CLOSE

The last chapter in the suit to quiet title in the case of Alice Curran against Caroline Robinson and others was closed yesterday when Attorney Franklin Swart, attorney for the plaintiff, filed findings in the case. Some time ago Judge Buck rendered a judgment for the plaintiff in the suit. The case was brought to clear the title to the P. Paulson property at Five Points that was recently sold by Mrs. Curran, as executrix of the estate of P. Paulson, deceased, for $28,000. The estate will be soon distributed to the ten heirs.

The residents of Redwood Highlands were on the qui vive, watching the outcome of the suit, for if an adverse decision had been rendered it might have involved the title to all the property there, as it originally was owned by Horace Hawes, who owned the Paulson holdings in the beginning. The same conditions existed. The defendants to the suit were the heirs of the Hawes. Much litigation might have followed a decision for the defendants. All may now breathe easier for there is to oe no further trouble and the titles have been declared correct by the tribunal competent to judge.

DURING 1926 we will carry the heaviest demand for service in our history—with an efficiency never before equalled. Our aim is to keep service available in advance of the needs of the territory served.

Cleaning Without Odor by the F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded bp our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening gasoline smell in your clothes.

MIDDLE OF THE ROAD COMPLEX IS A GREAT MENACE

One of the greatest menaces to traffic on the streets, boulevards and even on the rural highways is the slow driver cruising down the center of the thoroughfare, according to the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile Association. That this is the case is attested to by hundreds of letters received by the Association from its citizen public safety committeemen throughout Northern and Central California who want to know if something cannot be done about the man who has the "Middle of the Road Complex."

The rules of the road require all slow moving traffic, whether passenger automobile, truck or bus, to keep to the right near the curb, according to Percy E. Towne, chairman of the Public Safety Committee of the Automobile Association. But this common sense rule of motoring is violated every day, and all of the time. Everywhere may be found the slow driver, creeping down the middle of the highway or street, blocking the expeditious movement of traffic and actually endangering the lives of others.

THE NEED OF THE CORRECTION OF VISION MORE APPARENT

It is estimated that there is over 100,000 blind people in this country, according to the statistics of the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, and the greater portion can have the condition of their eyes benefited.

Less than one-half of the states have made provision to have the eyes of school children examined yearly. Teachers have the best opportunity to note defects of vision of a pupil by the children squinting while at the black board or where a book is placed in reading either too near or far, blinking and rubbing their eyes.

Parents should be very grateful if a defect in vision is called to their attention by a teacher. Reading causes a strain and often gives a warning of defective vision by its various symptoms. Some children are eager to read, while others are glad to be away from print. There is a reason. We often find that a child who is fond of reading that they are some what near sighted and one who is fond of outdoor sport is often far sighted.

Many are prejudiced against children wearing glasses, thinking that when once they wear them they will never be able to be without them, but it is not true as many errors will be corrected in the youth and thoroughly overcome before the age of maturity.

One would not deprive their loved ones of the happiness that can be gleaned in life through the sense of vision, knowing a defective condition and to assure one of such a state it is best to have an examination of the eyes, our life's greatest asset.

While the University avenue bridge is not yet completed, it had reached the place where it was open for traffic Sunday morning and the new bridge will find in the near future many improvements near it. H. P. Studley, who has built an attractive oil station facing the bridge on the corner of University is now improving the grounds with shrubbery. John Huss has made the opposite corner attractive and plans are under way for homes, and blue prints have been made for buildings which are contemplated to make a wonderful improvement in that section of East Palo Alto.

Next Tuesday evening, January 19, will be the regular meeting of the Dumbarton Grange in the school auditorium.

The East Palo Alto Progressive Club met Tuesday evening with not as large an attendance as usual, owing to rehearsal for the entertainment to be given by the men tonight. An interesting meeting was held, however, and plans made for a social meeting with a full membership present to follow an important business session the second Tuesday evening in February.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

W. J. Murray is building two stores adjoining his real estate office on Santa Cruz avenue. They will be modern in every detail. The stores have already been spoken for by local business men.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Belcourt have sold their home in the Mayfield district as an industrial site and will remove to Menlo Park about the middle of this month. They will reside with Mrs. Belcourt's parents.

Pacific School of Religion of Berkeley will eventually receive more than $1,000,000 from the estate of the late Charles Holbrook, wealthy plumbing manufacturer, it became konwn this week with the filing of the will. The school is bequeathed $100,000 for a library building and will receive the residue of the estate after the death of Mrs. Olive Palmer and Mrs. Mark Knight, his two daughters, who are to receive the income from the estate during life. Each of the daughters was willed $10,000 outright, as were two sons-in-law, Silas Palmer and Samuel Knight.

The will also creates a trust fund of $50,000 for Harriett Holbrook, a granddaughter, living at Coronado. A score of faithful employees are willed $10,000.

The Holbrook home here was given in equal shares to the two daughters, Mrs. Samuel Knight and Mrs Silas Palmer. Mrs. Knight has transferred her interest in the attractive home to her sister.

The Mercantile Trust Company will formally open its bank here on January 25 with a full corps of clerks. A reception is to be held in the morning when many patrons of the institution will meet the officers of the bank. The building is modern and the very last word in convenience and comfort. We predict a success for the new institution which is filling a long felt want in Menlo Park.

Edwin Walsh has secured a responsible position in the controller's office at Stanford in the executive department. Mr. Walsh is an alumnus of Santa Clara University and a clever young man. He is a medalist of the university.

W. J. Thomas of Saskatchewan, Canada, is here on a visit with his brother, A. E. Thomas, the local real estate operator. Mr. Thomas is a big farmer in the north and grazes cattle on a 30,000-acre tract, owned by the British government. His family lives in Berkeley. Mr Thomas spends the winter here going north in early spring to plant his crop and harvest it in December.

Duncan Reynard, one of the officials of the P. G. & E. has bought a home in Palo Alto in one of the fashionable districts of that progressive town. Mr. Reynard and his charming and pretty wife moved to the college town this week to occupy the new domicile.

The National Merchant Tailors' Association is meeting in annual convention in San Francisco this week. J. E. Strong, the local tailor, belongs to the association and is in attendance, so that if you do not secure your garments in time you will know the reason.

The Incorporation Club is giving a dance in the Community hall this evening to raise funds to continue the campaign to incorporate the town of Menlo Park into a city of the sixth class. Come and enjoy yourself and bring your baby, not maybe, but your baby now. Dancing will continue until 2 a. m. Price of admission is $1.

Mrs. Rosaura Bacigalupi, widow of the late Peter Bacigalupi, who introduced the phonograph into California, passed away at her home in San Francisco last Sunday. She was the mother of Mrs. Leon Douglass of Menlo Park. Mrs. Bacigalupi was a native of Peru, aged 64. Her husband passed away a short time ago. Mrs. Bacigalupi was highly esteemed by all who knew her. She had a large circle of friends both in San Francisco and on the peninsula. The surviving sons and daughters are Mrs. Leon F. Douglass, George Adams, Mrs. A. M. Van Meter, Fannie Adams, Mrs. Sofie Williams, Peter Bacigalupi, Jr., Mrs. Mary Ackerman and Joseph Bacigalupi.

The Church of the Nativity was crowded last Saturday morning with friends of Mrs. J. A. Donohoe who had come to pay their last respect to the noble woman whose bier stood before the altar which she often approached in receiving Holy Communion. The services were simple but impressive. A low mass was celebrated by Monsignor Ramm, pastor of St. Mary's Cathedral of San Francisco, and a friend of the deceased. Gregorian music was sweetly rendered by a choir from St. Patrick's Seminary. The blessing of the coffin containing the mortal remains of the good woman was performed by Archbiship E. J. Hanna. Inside the chancel were Archbishop Hanna, Bishop Cantwell of Los Angeles and other church dignitaries and twenty-five priests from various parts of the diocese. The floral tributes, without number, were placed in the church before the services began. Every nook and corner were filled with these beautiful tokens of love. Every seat was taken in the edifice and every portion of the peninsula was represented at the funeral. Automobiles numbering over two hundred brought friends from San Francisco and other places to be present at the last rites of the noble woman.

A movement has been started in Palo Alto to extend Alma street through to Menlo Park, connecting with Ravenswood road. A bridge is to be constructed over the creek. The proposed street will parallel the Southern Pacific tracks on the east. There is no doubt but that Timothy Hopkins will deed the right of way and the people of Menlo Park welcomes the move for it will unite the two towns. The people of the College Town will then avoid crossing the tracks at that dangerous point near the big tree. Menlo Park hails with delight all such improvements.

The North Palo Alto Sanitary District has called for bids for the construction of a sanitary sewer to cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. Bids will be opened at the office of the district at the Home Dairy on the evening of February 9.

The Base hospital at Menlo Park needs 200 more additional beds according to a statement made yesterday by State Adjutant James K. Fisk of the American Legion. The sum of $400,000 is to be asked of Congress for this hospital. Senator Shortridge has the matter in hand and will soon have a bill enacted calling for an apropriation for that amount.

The Sonnickson property on Santa Cruz avenue, across the street from the postoffice, better known as the Loveland home, was sold yesterday to Harry Doughty, who is to erect a big building on the land for his meat market. It is said the sum of $10,000 was paid for the fifty feet. The old building will soon be wrecked. It was one of the first houses built in Menlo Park. It was erected by the late Mr. Farrell in the later sixties, when he was chief gardener for Senator Milton S. Latham, who at that time owned the now Timothy Hopkins estate. Latham was in the height of his success and lavished money on his home which was the show place of the state. Some years later Mr. and Mrs. Loveland, with their three pretty daughters, bought the dwelling which was the scene of many gay gatherings of young people. The Lovelands at that time were the local social leaders, Mrs. Loveland was a particular friend of Leland Stanford and during his time as senator had her appointed postmaster, a position she filled under all administrations. She established the office in the front part of the house and here mail was dispatched for a number of years. Many pleasant memories are associated with the old building that will soon be no more.

The election for the incorporation of Menlo Park as a city of the sixth class may not be called until April when the regular elections for municipal offices takes place throughout the state. It would be unwise to have a vote on the question now and hold another election in April which must be had according to law. The proponents of incorporation will continue to prepare all the preliminaries and be in readiness when the time comes to hold the election.

Real estate men here are looking forward to a lively spring in the sale of property in Menlo Park. According to numerous inquiries in the last week it would appear as though realty hereabouts is in demand. Owing to the near completion of the Dumbarton bridge property in North Palo Alto has taken on a big boom and inquiries and sales are being made there daily. The rumor that Ford is to establish a mammoth assembling factory in that locality has brought hundreds of investors to place their money on property. North Palo Alto is, perhaps, the fastest growing community in the county. It is located a half mile from the business center of the College City, with all modern conveniences and a high class citizenry, so that home seekers are selecting choice lots to build. There is very little property left there for sale and the holdings that are for sale are skyrocketting in price

The grocerymen of the county formed an organization at San Mateo this week. Among the officers elected was Martin McCarthy of this place. The organization is started for the mutual benefit of the grocerymen.

Miss Dorothy Hughes of Australia is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Moore at their Menlo Park home. She is the daughter of Sir Thomas Hughes, financier of Australia and London, who is also in this country. Sir Thomas Hughes has gone East. He will return to join his daughter and they will sail for England together. Miss Hughes attended boarding school in Berkeley for three years, but has not been in California since seven years ago.

CAMP FREMONT RELIC FALLS BEFORE WRECKERS

The new owners of the Paulsen property at 595 Broadway are wrecking the garage building on the site and removing the lumber. The present owner was not disclosed in the sale, as the real estate firm making the negotiations appeared in the deed. It is believed, however, that the actual purchaser is the Woolworth Company, who is to erect a large building on the holding to cost fifty thousand dollars.

The structure being wrecked was formerly the Y. M. C. A. building, located at Camp Fremont duirng the war. After the war Mr. Paulsen removed it to his property on Broadway and used it as a garage and work shop. The land cost Mr. Paulsen seven years ago the sum of $1,700 and he sold it two months ago for $35,000. Some profit.

The old building and that of the Knights of Columbus structure were located close to each other at Camp Fremont, the superintendents of both working side by side in their efforts to make it comfortable and pleasant for the boys in kahki. Both structures are historical and have woven a place in the records of Camp Fremont, where the eighth division was trained and fitted for the struggles across the waters. Happily the war ended before all the division had reached the scene of battle. The part that did participate gave a splendid account of itself.

The soldiers found comfort and consolation and encouragement in these buildings. There they gathered to receive their friends, to secure instructions and to be amused by the management. The big fireplaces in the Knights of Columbus building admitted logs six feet in length and this wood was furnished by Mrs. J. A. Donohoe, who was buried from her Menlo Park home last Saturday. These logs were brought from her own estate to furnish warmth to the soldier boys, who learing of her demise, no doubt, sent up a fervent prayer to heaven on her behalf. Mrs. Donohoe did noble work during the war for the soldiers and for their wives, whom she provided for during their stay in Menlo Park.

The K. C. building was bought by the First Congregational church of Redwood City and moved to Five Points, where it is used as a mission for the residents living in that part of the city. It, too, will probably soon be wrecked in order to give way to some modern edifice, more imposing and beautiful in architecture.

So will both of the two historic buildings be forgotten. Those who were guests of the management during the troublesome times, will not forget the kind treatment received and they will always have a tenderplace in their hearts for them. The place where they stood will be hallowed and sacred to the soldier boy and to his mother who on her visit to him would shed bitter tears in taking her departure from her son, whom she was willing to sacrifice on the altar of patriotism and for the preservation of the republic.

Sacred memories are associated with these mute buildings and it seems too bad that they could not be preserved for future generations. They would serve to inspire patriotism and would become shrines to be visited by the thousands who spent the fateful years of 1918 within their walls. The relics cannot be saved, they must give way to commercialism.

BOYS OFFERED TOURS OF EUROPE BY Y.M.C.A.

Six boys from California are being considered as possible members of the third World Friendship tour, to be conducted through ten foreign countries next summer under the auspices of the National Council of the Young Men's Christian Association, it was announced this week by Roy A. Hohberger, the San Mateo County Boys' Work Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Forty boys from nearly forty states will be accomodated this year, as aginst twenty from eleven states in 1925.

The boys selected will be divided into two goups of twenty each. One group, to be gone ten weeks, will sail from New York in June and visit ten countries. The other, which will be away five weeks, will attend the World Y. M. C. A. Conference at Helsingfors, Finland, where 2000 persons from about fifty countries—300 of them boys under 21—will meet to discuss world problems.

The choice of personnel for the tours is made through local Y. M. C. A.s, which suggest the names of boys between the ages of 16 and 19 to the Y. M. C. A. State Conference. The State Conference in turn submit to the National Council. Private schools are also sending names for consideration.

Efforts are being made to have these tours as representative as possible. Four Negro boys will be included among the forty tourists, and if possible, one American Indian. The boys must be of high character and have outstanding qualities of leadership. It is obvious, of course, that many applicants of good standing and eligibility will have to be rejected, since the size of each group is limited.

The longer of the two tours, called the A-1 tour, will leave New York on June 26 and will return September 1. Visits to England, Belgium, France, Germany, Holland, Sweden, Finland and Denmark will be included. From July 31 to August 7 the party will be at Helsingfors, where, with members of the shorter tour, they will camp with boys of foreign countries and attend special boys' meetings.

It is expected that in many of the countries visited prominent officials will greet the American boys. This past summer the Y. M. C. A. party was received by many officials, including Dr. Michael Hanisch, president of Austria, who presented each boy with a large autographed photograph.

The chief idea of the World Friendship Tours is to promote a better understanding among the nations of the world, through introducing their youth to one another before they have reached the age where thoughtless prejudice sets in, according to J. A. Van Dis, of the National Council, who has conducted the tours in the past.

Boys who love their work and attend to it.

Boys who love their country and are true to it.

Boys who will not lie, shirk or dodge.
